XELODA Therapy Reinforcement and Access Program for Patients

Description

The XTRA program is a personalized, confidential program administered by an independent company for patients receiving XELODA (capecitabine) therapy at no cost to the patient or healthcare provider. The XTRA program also functions as an additional patient support resource for the patient as well as the oncology health care team. The program is staffed by oncology nurses specially trained in XELODA therapy.

How Does it Work?

The program is unique in that each enrolled patient is assigned to an XTRA nurse who will call the patient at a convenient time to provide support and ensure proper compliance in accordance with the health care provider's instructions.

The XTRA nurses maintain contact with the patient's oncology office, verify any changes in the therapeutic regimen, alert the healthcare provider office about any potential problems, and encourage patients to call his/her treatment team whenever there is any medical problem. The XTRA nurses function as an extension to the healthcare provider's office. It is important to note that XTRA nurses do not practice medicine, but rather lend a hand in patient support.
